What will your child be learning about this half term?

In English we will be reading The Proudest Blue by Ibtiyah Muhammad and S.K. Ali, The Invisible Boy by Sally Gardner and Leon and the Place Between by Grahame Baker Smith.

We will be writing in different genres such as, setting descriptions, emails and will be focusing on learning the following grammar rules: Correct tense, Adverbs and a range of prefixes.

In maths we will be focusing on addition and subtraction problems, interpreting data and Fractions.

Our topic in science is 'Light and Dark' continuing from last half term.

Our learning quest this half term is, 'What is the Legacy of Roman Britain?' We will be focusing on historical skills such as suggesting suitable sources of evidence for historical enquiry, describing accounts of historical events, suggesting consequences of some of the main events and changes in history.

In art we will be taking inspiration from Michelangelo and exploring sculpture through creating a clay bust.

In music, our focus will be on sharing musical experiences and investigating 'how music helps us to get to know our community.'

In PE we will be doing Yoga and Netball.

In Religion and Worldview Day we will be learning about Christianity and answering our key question, 'What is good about Good Friday?'

In French, we will be exploring the topic 'Food Glorious Food'.
